MORE FROM QUESTIONSANSWERED.NET Sakumo Hatake was renowned as White Fang of the Leaf, and was considered to be a very strong Ninja. Sakumo was introduced to us during the early episodes of Naruto Shippuden, where Chiyo mistook Kakashi for the White Fang. But, very little is known about him since. It is said that Sakumo once abandoned a mission to save his comrades.The Fire country was furious with him for this, and even those he saved criticized his sense as a Shinobi. This put him in pits of depression, and ultimately, he killed himself.These events later had a deep impact on Kakashi's life and his thinking. It made him sternly follow the rules of the Shinobi world, even if it meant abandoning a friend in need. Up until Obito made him realize the importance of friendship, Kakashi refused to let Emotions and bonds get tangled up with his missions.Sakumo's past was explained pretty well, but one question that always remained unanswered was how strong he really was. I'm going to answer that in today's post.Sakumo was considered one of the most elite Ninja to ever exist in Konoha. It is said that he possessed powers that overshadowed even that of the Sannin.Now that makes him really strong! The Sannin were considered Konoha's brightest during the Second Shinobi World War, and being stronger or equal to them is an amazing feat. Further, According to Minato, Sakumo held no equals during his own time. Sakumo wielded a chakra sabre that he used as his trademark weapon.He was so feared across the lands that during the 3rd Great Ninja War, an Iwagakure Shinobi was terrified when he mistook Kakashi for the White Fang.Even the Fire Daimyo seemed pleased with Kakashi as the Six Hokage, when he recognized him as Sakumo's son. With the level of skill that he possessed, Sakumo could easily have become the Hokage.Further, The White Fang was very well renowned since even Chiyo from the Hidden Sand had a grudge against him for killing Sasori's parents.But his strength wasn't all he was known for. Sakumo will always be better known for his way of life.His decision to save his friends instead of completing the mission was one that drove Shinobi like Obito and Kakashi further. Even though he gave his life away in the process, I'm sure if he had the chance he would do it all over again.His way of life inspired the young generation, especially Naruto Uzumaki, who never gave up on Sasuke Uchiha.In the world of Shinobi, those who break the rules are scum, but those who abandon their friends are even worse than scum and to be able to prioritize friendship over your own life is a far greater quality than being above the level of the Legendary Sannin. The best thing about Naruto is that it gives time and space to all the stories and characters that it introduces. Right from the first generation of Ninjas to the younger ones, all of them have their personal conflicts and growth. Like how the current Boruto series is dissecting all the young fighters, Naruto also does the same thing. Similarly, the story of White Fang On The Leaf holds a strong meaning in the story. So, who was White Fang On The Leaf? What was his contribution to the events of Naruto? Why do fans admire him so much? Here is everything you need to know about him. Who Is The White Fang On The Leaf? In the most simple terms, White Fang On The Leaf is the alias given to Sakumo Hatake, the father of Kakashi Hatake. Before learning who Sakumo was, it is important to know that the ninjas of Konohagakure worship the Sannin. This is the term given to the three Legendary Ninja who was the strongest of their time. Now, until Sakumo displayed his powers to the people, The Sannin was considered the greatest of all time. However, Kakashi's father received the title of the White Fang On The Leaf. At quite a young age, he was said to be stronger than the Sannin themselves. The reason behind this name was quite simple. Sakumo's most powerful move was a Tanto which he liked to call the White Light Chakra Sabre. This weapon caused the Chakra to emit white fang-like projections giving him the titular alias. Sakumo Vs. The Yellow Flash While there is no separate arc that describes the character in his separate story, there are many legends that talk about his fights and contributions to the hidden leaf village. The most important part of the story regards his enmity with Chiyo. In Naruto Shippuuden, it was revealed that it was Sakumo who had killed Sasori's parent who had come to the Konoha village on a mission. This scene never made it to the screens. However, Kakashi's father confessed that he was the one who killed the pair. This confession led to many conflicts coming up in the future between Sasori, Sasaki, and Kakashi. The second part of the story includes the fight between Sakumo and The Yellow Flash. Also known as Konoha no Kiroi Senkōth, the Yellow Flash is Minato Namikaze, who was the fourth Hokage of Konohagakure. Much to the dislike of fans, this fight never took place. It is only a fan demand that the two fighters are pitched together. These two are the strongest fighters of their time. Thus, the urge to see them clash on the battlefield is high. Yellow Flash lost his life during the Nine-Tails attack when Kuruma was on the rise. It was only after the beast was vesseled inside Naruto that peace was restored in the world. However, the fourth Hokage lost his life in the process. White Fang On The Leaf Death Fans who are closely following Naruto and the follow-up, Boruto Naruto Next Generation, know that White Fang On The Leaf is dead. Now, the question would arise that who killed him. Well, no one could actually kill the man of this stature. Sakumo left this world on his own. The legend committed suicide out of depression. Much later in the story, it was explained that Sakumo had gone on an important mission when he was a shinobi. But during the course of the mission, it turned out that people were in grave danger. As a leader of the troop, Sakumo decided that it would be best to abandon the mission instead of putting all their lives in danger. As a result of this failure, the White Fang On The Leaf had to suffer disapproval from his own people. This kept happening for years and years to come. But when his son reached a fickle age, Sakumo had gone into a dark depressive state. A few days later, young Kakashi dead in his own room. Can There Be A Spin-Off On Sakumo Hatake? Now comes the interesting part, which talks about the possibilities of the White Fang On The Leaf returning. All through these years, fans debate that Naruto is an extensive story. This means that out of two hundred-plus episodes and fifty arcs, none of them talk about this legend. From Twitter to Reddit to Quora, all the platforms have large chunks of fans demanding a spin-off series about Sakumo Hatake. Besides, a 2-hour movie could also do justice to the beloved character. No such project was even considered by the makers in the long run. However, if enough fans sign petitions and demand the project, it may see the light of the day.
